VIA REGULAR MAIL

Dear Patient,

I have made the difficult decision to take a sabbatical but place another OB/GYN group in my office in my absence. This was not a decision I made hastily or without a great deal of thought. Unfortunately, this decision was made so that I will have time to assist with the severe health needs of one of my immediate family members. Due to this person's health needs, I do not have the time necessary to dedicate and focus on my practice. These health concerns also arose quite quickly and did not provide me with the luxury to give the notice I would have preferred to provide to you.

The group, Caring for Women under the direction of Dr. Joe Valenti will be continuing my practice. Dr. Valenti is a skilled and gifted robotic surgeon as well as a kind and well respected gynecologist. Caring for Women has several locations and includes other physicians, nurse practitioners, and midwives. Please continue to make appointments in this office in Frisco, by calling the same number, 972-769-9663. Your charts will remain here, as Caring for Women will provide continuing care and act as custodians of my records.

I am thankful to have had you as a patient. Thank you for entrusting me and my staff with your healthcare needs. It has been a pleasure to provide your care, and we wish you the very best in the future and know you are in good hands. I have not yet set a return date, but I appreciate all your thoughts and prayers in my absence. I will assist this new team with transition and remain in the office until Caring for Women has transitioned here, and of course, we are available to you for scheduling appointments or for any urgent care needs.

Sincerely,

Kathryn J. Wood, M.D.
